

At the Quail House, we provide exceptional memory care in an elegant mansion setting, offering a unique alternative to large, institutional facilities. Designed to feel like a true home, rather than a medical facility, our boutique memory care mansion combines luxury, comfort, and personalized attention in an intimate, family-style environment. Our secure, thoughtfully designed community provides peace of mind for families, ensuring residents are safe while still enjoying the freedom to move about comfortably. With consistent, compassionate caregivers, we offer stability, routine, and a deep sense of familiarity—essential for those living with Alzheimer's, Parkinson's and other forms of dementia.
